VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1867. NO. 254.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

LOYAL REMINISCENCES.

We hear much of the former political history of certain would-be leaders of the Radical party in North Carolina. The press has frequently extolled the gallant military exploits of Colonel Carter and Captain Settle, two of the earliest volunteers to respond to the call of Governor Ellis in the Spring of 1861, the latter holding a commission in the third volunteer regiment formed, and the former rising from the rank of Captain to Lieutenant Colonel in the fourth war regiment which left the State. His active military career being checked by a severe wound in the Spring of 1862, he patriotically sought and did the Confederate States much valuable service as a member, and finally as the President of, one of the most important and responsible Military Courts, in sentencing to death deserters and cowards and meting out proper punishment to malefactors of less degree.

We learn, too, by reference to our old files, that the Hon. John Pool was the elector in the first congressional district on the Davis and Stephens ticket, and being elected, cast his vote at the meeting of the Electoral College for those gentlemen. We have heard from reliable sources that the same distinguished gentleman aspired to and sought the position of Brigadier General in the "rebel" army, but possibly the same honorable purposes influenced him then as did afterward, when, according to his own confession, he took an oath to support the Constitution of the Confederate States, as a State Senator, in order to embarrass the Confederate Government.

The same honorable and manly objects influenced the Hon. G. W. Logan to take the oath as a member of the Confederate Congress, according to his confession, in the House of Commons last winter, when pressed home on the subject by the talented member from Guilford, Colonel Morehead.

These are a few of the "shining lights" of the "party of progress and moral ideas" in North Carolina.

The recent opinion of the Attorney General upon the Reconstruction Acts of Congress in referring to certain Conventions held in the Southern States in 1861, brings back very forcibly to the minds of some of us the position and opinions then held by some of the most eminent and zealous North Carolina Republicans of the present day.—Says Mr. Stanbery, "But as to those legislative bodies which passed what are called ordinances of secession, by whatever name they may have been called, I am of the opinion that their members are properly comprehended within this disqualifying clause, for I can imagine no official legislative position in which the duty of allegiance was more distinctly violated."

In glancing our eyes over the list of delegates assembled in Raleigh on the "ever memorable twentieth day of May," eager to record their names in favor of the "Ordinance of Separation," we find some which latterly have been before the public in a different role. The Ordinance of Separation was passed the first day; and, we quote from the journal of that body for the next day, 21st. May, 7 o'clock, P. M.:

"On motion by Mr. Venable, the order of the Convention this morning was so changed that the counties should appear on the parchment in alphabetical order."

"At 8 o'clock, as agreed upon, in open Convention, the members proceeded to affix their names and places of residence to the Ordinance of Separation; and one hundred and twenty—the whole number provided for by the act of the General Assembly—came forward and signed the instrument." Among these names we find CHARLES R. THOMAS, of Carteret, ROBERT P. DICK, of Guilford, and W. W. HOLDEN, of Wake. Among many other ordinances adopted by this Convention, were several raising troops and appropriating money to carry on the war.

This Convention held four different sessions, and did not adjourn finally until the 13th of May, 1862. Among the very last things done, after the usual vote of thanks to the President, was the unanimous adoption of the following resolution, introduced by that gallant gentleman and patriotic Confederate, the delegate from Wake, Mr. Holden:

"Resolved, unanimously, by this Convention, That the thanks of the people of North Carolina are due and are hereby tendered to the ladies of the State for the contributions which they have made to the Confederate cause, and for the patriotic ardor which they have exhibited in behalf of the country in the prosecution of the war."

We must candidly confess, though somewhat of a youth at that time, and entirely unused to the politician's wiles, that we thought that these gentlemen were in earnest; that if they were able to deceive their constituents and the people of the State, they would shrink from attempting to prove false to the oath by which they called upon their Maker to witness the honesty of their conduct, if for no more noble reason than the divine warning in the doom of Ananias and Sapphira. We believe yet that they were in earnest; we believe the Ordinance of Secession was voted for honestly and with the intention to abide by it faithfully; we believe that when these gentlemen called for troops, voted supplies, "co-operated with the Governor in offering testimonials of honor and grateful acknowledgment to that gallant commander" (General D. H. Hill) "and the officers and men under his command" for their achievements at Bethel, and illuminated the Capitol and grounds in honor of that brilliant victory, they acted in good faith. Surely these gentlemen could not have been so false to their constituents and to their oaths, acting under the grave responsibilities of that important and terrible crisis, as to have "fretted and strutted" their parts in the opening scenes of this soleman tragedy, merely as a blind to further some hidden and ulterior movement in aid of their noble affection for "the flag." We do not believe that the pledge of the "last man and the last dollar" was merely for stage effect, like the famous offer of Richard for the horse. It is charity to suppose that though honest then, that a modern Richard, having a kingdom to dispose of, has proposed to "swap horses" and from the "high mountain" to which these gentlemen have been led, the temptation has proven too great, and they have concluded to take the contract and supply the Congressional stables with all the horses they may think necessary to conduct successfully their approaching campaign. The titles, however, to these promised kingdoms may be as valueless as that offered by the English monarch—a battle is to be fought and a victory won before the property passes under the contract, and a Richmond may yet wrest the coveted prizes from their grasp.

Such are a few of the Loyal Reminiscences which occur to us in view of the announcement of the Attorney General that the duty of allegiance was more distinctly violated by members of secession conventions than in any other official legislative position. There are others which may be referred to hereafter. Indeed, the angler in the political waters of North Carolina, even with a short line, will drag up many "queer fish."—Wilmington Journal.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophies, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1867.

THE DEMONSTRATION ON MONDAY.

The utterances against the fidelity of the people of North Carolina to the government, which have been so falsely and so offensively repeated by Radical tongues, were never more signally rebuked and refuted, than they were on Monday last, in the demonstration made upon the arrival of the President. The very general turn-out of the people to see him, on the entire route from Weldon to Raleigh during the day, plainly indicated not only a strong feeling of attachment to President Johnson, created within the last two years by the anxiety which he has shown to heal the wounds of the past and to promote the restoration of a harmonious Union under the Constitution, but a sincere respect and admiration for the great office which he fills. Nor was the evidence of this feeling less palpable, in the respect and interest exhibited towards Mr. Seward, whom, until recently, our people had felt and believed had been one of the greatest enemies to the South.

This feeling was still more plainly shown by the demonstration at the Hotel, when the President, and Messrs. Seward and Randall, and Gen. Sickles, were introduced to the people by Gov. Worth, and by the spontaneous exhibition of their appreciation of the kindly sentiments expressed by those gentlemen. We have never seen in Raleigh a larger or more interested gathering of the people than on that occasion. All classes and colors met to do honor to Andrew Johnson and his distinguished associates. No portion of their remarks aroused and excited more intense interest and approval than their allusions to the early restoration of a harmonious Union of the States. The past, as well as the present and prospective humiliations of our people, by the proposed and untried conditions imposed upon them, seemed to be forgotten, and none thought of any thing else but the prospect opened up in the future by the restoration of a united and harmonious country. Questions of party, of the political contests which might hereafter arise, were all laid aside, and the fact that the whole country was ours, and that these men were the representatives of the great nation of which we were a part, seemed wholly to occupy the thoughts of the immense crowd. Mr. Seward seemed instinctively to feel that it was an earnest and honest expression of the hearts of our people, and could not avoid allusion to it.—Perhaps President Johnson has seldom been more affected by such an exhibition, and he could scarcely repress his strong emotions which struggled for utterance, though anxiously and determinedly refraining from their expression, because entirely apart from the objects of his visit. Mr. Randall was a stranger, yet that large audience felt he too was a friend and a fellow-citizen. The closing remarks of Gen. Sickles met with universal applause. His strong endorsement of our obedience to law and the respect and veneration of the people of North Carolina for the government and our loyalty to it, were what our people felt a just and merited compliment, expressed by one whose official position enabled him to judge of us fairly and correctly. And yet, amid these unusual and excitingly interested scenes, our people bore themselves calmly. There was no noisy, passionate outburst, but an earnest expression of the honesty and loyalty of our people.

HON. MR. FARNSWORTH, of Illinois, has started on his missionary tour. He spoke at Loudoun C. H., Va., on the 1st. A correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch says:

"Mr. Farnsworth spoke an hour, and evidently exerted himself to be conciliatory; an attempt of the kind for so bitter a partisan as Mr. Farnsworth—one who deals so largely in the language of denunciation and partizan severity—being a matter of considerable difficulty. He was cheered upon the utterance of many of his opinions with much warmth by the auditors. The feeling of the people present was one of relief that he said nothing worse; yet his remarks about the Supreme Court were radical enough to gratify the most exorbitant demands in that line.

He was followed by Langston, the colored lawyer, who spoke an hour and twenty minutes. He gave the negroes good advice; and many thought he did better than Farnsworth."

IMPEACHMENT.—We learn, by telegram from Washington, that the Judiciary Committee has adjourned to the 26th of June. The impeachment project was finally defeated by a vote of five to four. Those who voted in its favor were Messrs. Boutwell, Thomas, Williams and Lawrence. Nays: Messrs. Wilson, Woodbridge, Eldridge, Marshall and Churchill. A resolution declaring that the President had committed acts worthy the condemnation of the people passed by a vote of 7 to 2. Thus, we suppose, ends the impeachment fiasco.

There is a Radical candidate for Congress in Tennessee, by the name of Mullins. The Murfreesboro' Monitor charges that he was the last man who sold a negro slave at public sale in the town of Shelbyville, and that he received Confederate money in payment! Mullins is now professing the greatest friendship for the colored man, as I boasts of his record. He is a specimen brick in the temple of southern radicalism, and is now trying to ride into Congress on the shoulders of the negro.—Vicksburg Herald.

We have a number of just such "specimen bricks" in North Carolina. There were a number of negro-traders in the famous Convention which met in this City, on the 27th of March, and several of the "leaders" (self-constituted) voted in the Legislature of 1865-'66 against allowing the blacks the privilege of testifying in the Courts of Justice.

PENITENTIARY—LEGISLATURE.

Perhaps a majority of the Legislature, at its last session, fully believed in the necessity for a State Penitentiary, yet the emphatic manner in which the people of the State had heretofore expressed their opposition to it, on account of the expenditure required and because it was deemed prejudicial to the mechanical interests of the State, led the Legislature to defer final action.

A few months' experience and observation, under the alterations which have taken place in our code for the punishment of crime, have awakened very general inquiry, and we are glad to learn that the necessity for a Penitentiary is being felt among our people more and more. Indeed, the expensiveness of ordinary imprisonment and its inefficiency in restraining or preventing crime have wrought great changes in the public mind, and it is now believed that a large majority of our people are in favor of a Penitentiary.

When, a few weeks ago, we suggested, if there was no imperious necessity in the minds of the members for the assembling of the Legislature in August, that they should request Gen. Sickles to dissolve it, we were then under the impression that the bill submitting the question of a Penitentiary to the decision of the people had passed both Houses of the Legislature, and that at the first election the question would be decided. We afterwards learned that the bill did not pass both Houses, and that the very general anxiety now felt for a Penitentiary, or some more efficient mode for the punishment of crime, renders it highly important that the Legislature should convene at an early day. It has been suggested that there are other important matters which claim the attention of the Legislature at once, and that the opinion is quite general that the Legislature should meet as ordered, if not earlier.

We further learn that Gen. Sickles is so fully impressed with the necessity of a Penitentiary, that he thinks it highly desirable that the Legislature should meet for the purpose of adopting the system, if for nothing else. We cannot vouch for the correctness of this statement, yet General Sickles' experience and observation, within his District, in view of the changes in our modes of punishment, must convince him that the establishment of a Penitentiary is a necessity.

[From the Charlotte Times.]

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

Pursuant to previous notice a procession of the Masonic fraternity was formed in the Hall of Phalanx Lodge, at 8 o'clock, P. M., which moved to Treloar Hall under the direction of Master of Ceremonies, S. Wittkowsy, W. M. of Excelsior Lodge.

On arriving at the Hall, the procession entered in inverted order and were seated around the stand.

The imposing ceremonies opened with prayer by Companion Rev. W. C. Power.

Past High Priest Sloan then proceeded to duly install the following officers. The unexcelled ritual and charges of Masonry, abounding as they do in the most beautiful verbiage known in the English language, was most appropriately and solemnly delivered and read by Dr. Sloan.

At the conclusion of the installation Dr. Sloan introduced to the audience the orator of the occasion, Companion Zebulon Baird Vance, who "as usual in all such cases, made and provided," entertained the audience beyond the power of description.

Gov. Vance traced Masonry through the forty centuries of its existence to show that it was the oldest temporal institution in the Universe, that it had survived the wreck and fall of dynasties, Empires, principalities and powers, and that no City, work of art, temple, monument or institution had witnessed the birth or could claim to be the elder brother of Masonry, save and except, perhaps, the Pyramids of Egyt. An institution to have been thus lasting, must have met with the favor of the Supreme Architect of the Universe. The prime cause of its success he attributed to its rigid rule of non-interference with politics, Governments or religion. Although Masonry had had the power, often, in the course of its existence, if properly concentrated, to overthrow or subvert Governments, it had never yet been proposed, much less countenanced or advocated by the fraternity. The speaker adverted to the inestimable benefits and blessings of Masonry, of its universality and its moralizing influence upon mankind. Gov. Vance thanked the ladies (large numbers were in attendance) for their presence and indulged in a few Vance hits at their expense, which was received with deafening applause and shouts of laughter. He informed them that although they could not engage in the work of Masonry, they were among the special objects of its care. Time and space forbid us a synopsis of this splendid effort—we reluctantly desist.

Dr. Sloan then in behalf of Charlotte Chapter presented High Priest Alexander with a gold Keystone, in an appropriate address, which was responded to in a grateful and dignified manner by that exalted officer.

After music by the Choir, and the benediction by Companion Power, the fraternity formed and marched to their Hall, while the immense concourse dispersed to their homes.

The Cincinnati Commercial,—a Republican paper,—condemns the position taken by Governor Boutwell, in the late address of the Congressional Republican Committee to the Southern people. It says:

"When Governor Boutwell proceeds to interpret the acts of Congress according to his extreme views, and to declare that they are not a finality, and that 'beyond these conditions' there is another, and that no less than that Congress shall be satisfied that the Southern States will become Republican partisan States, he greatly exceeds his authority to speak for Congress or the Republican party, and becomes impertinent, and, so far as he is influential, mischeivous."

A telegram received in New Orleans, from Matamoros, May 25, states that Governor Berriozabal did not believe the report that Juarez had ordered Maximilian and his generals to be shot. The same despatch makes mention of Miramon's capture by Cortina, a short distance from Queretaro.—According to the same authority, the Brownsville Ranchero of May 24 says one of Maximilian's officers had arrived in Brownsville. He says he escaped after the capture, when Maximilian and his generals were to be shot. This, however, is looked upon as doubtful. News from Vera Cruz to the 10th ult., states that the imperial commander was only waiting the receipt of official information of the fall of Queretaro to surrender the city.

Catholic Bishop Wood, of Philadelphia, previous to his departure for Europe, sent a check for $500 to the Southern Relief Association.

From the Savannah News.

TO THE FREEDMEN OF GEORGIA.

The following letter from a colored man applies with equal force to the colored people of North Carolina:

SAVANNAH, May 28th, 1867.

On the eve of leaving America for a short stay in Europe, I feel not only the inclination, but deem it my duty to address a few parting words to my people, whose welfare lies next to my heart and whose interests are the theme of my thoughts by day and my dreams by night. These ideas are dictated not only by a fixed resolution, determined by observation of the present political aspect, but also by what I have observed through a prolonged residence in both sections of the United States. In doing this, I am well aware from past experience that I shall no doubt call down upon my head the vials of wrath of the Radical party at the South, and if deemed important enough, perhaps of the North also; but "I speak the words of truth and soberness," and I earnestly entreat my people everywhere not to be persuaded by the wild inventions of party faction addressed to them on issues entirely outside of their material interests, but to listen to the words of one who has no personal advantage to subserve, and who, in making these remarks, is actuated simply by a desire to see his people pursue a course consistent with their past situation and their future responsibilities and duties; for, my colored brethren, we have most serious responsibilities and duties in the future. We spring from a state of slavery to one which makes us legislators and gives us a voice as potential as that of our late masters in the government of the country, not the Southern country only, but the United States at large; for reconstruction is about to ensue on our admission to political rights, and our vote in Georgia for Federal offices is equal to the vote of the white man, North and South, for the Federal offices.

The first question that arises under this state of affairs is—"Are we prepared by education or otherwise to select the best men for office?" and if not, "to whom are we to look for advice and guidance on this question, which so deeply involves the fate of our people?"

To the first proposition, I think that the educated and thinking men of my people must answer that, with few exceptions, "my people are not capable of the necessary discrimination;" and this is not necessarily the result of any inferiority of race, as may be suggested, but is the result of what would be in any people the consequence of long continued slavery and a general want of education.

Now, then, my people, under these circumstances, to whom shall we look for advice? Shall it be to the people of the Northern States, or to the people of the South—to the stranger who preaches benevolence, or to the friends whom we know from infancy? It is true, that the North has struck the fetters from our limbs; but we are to inquire seriously as to this question, while we are bound in gratitude to thank them for this service, whether this action was the result of love to the colored man or of hatred to the rebellion and its adherents.

This question is one of too much intricacy for me to argue here. I merely suggest to you the expediency of deep and abiding thought and speculation on it. But I desire to bring things before you as they are; for I love acts and not theories, and the Pharisee holds small position in my mind, when he is brought in contact with the conscientious Levite. I have lived at the North—this philanthropic North—which has fought our battle and liberated us on a political question—a philanthropy which was achieved altogether at the cost of our late masters, and did not cost anybody else one cent.

I grew up with Southern white boys, played with them, and love them. I have met only unvarying kindness at the hands of our Southern men. I cannot say the same of Northern men.

But leaving all this out of the question, to whose interest are you to trust? Will you rely on the man whose interests are involved with the looms of New England and the mines of Pennsylvania, where you can never live or be employed, or will you trust to the planter of rice and cotton, in whose country you live and whose interests are identically yours? Can't your see that your interests are identically those of the people of the South? That as they prosper, you will prosper. That as they are impoverished by taxation or legislation, you will be impoverished also. Now, it this be true, and common sense will clearly show you that it is, the Southern people are not going to vote or legislate to impoverish themselves. And if their interests are your interests, ought you not to take their advice on these political matters, in which your future is greatly involved? I hardly think it admits of a question.

Now, my brethren, you are Southern men, live at the South, raised at the South, your interests all Southern, your future indissolubly linked with the South. Demagogues may strive to persuade you otherwise, but I have lived among them; I know the status of the colored man among them; and, in fact, to sustain and fortify my position, I need only to point to Illinois and other Northern States, where a colored man is not permitted by their laws to reside. Such a law never has been enacted and never would have been enacted in a Southern State, and this you very well know.

To those, then, my people, with whom you have been raised and among whom you were born; to those accustomed to your habits and manners; to those among whom you live and whose interests are clearly your interests; to those who are the only parties to whom you must look for work and subsistence; to those who sympathize with you and yours; to those among whom you "live and move and have your being;" and finally to those who, as I believe before God, are the only friends and preservers of the colored men, I enjoin you to turn—to take example, advice and precedent from those whom you know, and, while you treat the stranger kindly, trust, above all, to old and well tried friends.

HENRY GWINN.

A Florida paper states that several prominent and influential gentlemen of St. Marks, Florida, despairing of ever finding any white person who can take the necessary oath as postmaster, have recommended to the Post-Office Department the name of a colored man, and it is thought he will be appointed.

Rev. Mr. Beckwith, of Trinity Church, announced to his congregation Sunday, greatly to their satisfaction, that he had concluded to decline the high office of bishop of Georgia, to which he was recently elected, and that he would remain in his present position.

A Nashville paper says at a recent wedding in that city "the bride and groom knelt and joined hands from the opposite side of a table, in the middle of the altar, on which was an open Bible covered with a wreath of flowers. A beautiful pyramid of flowers was suspended over their heads from the ceiling."

Slavery has not yet been abollished in the Empire of Brazil. The announcement of its abolition, which we got by way of England, through the Atlantic Cable, was premature.

OBITUARY.

Died at the residence of his father, Rev Josiah Crudup, in Granville Co., on the evening of June 2nd., from hemorrhage, HENRY CRUDUP.

The deceased, after a long and painful illness, has passed from amongst us. He expired without a struggle, and, in the language of one who stood by him, in his moments of death, "I never saw one die easier."

Though afflicted from his earliest infancy up to manhood, he bore with firmness and fortitude his affliction, and has at last run with patience the race set before him.

Of his merits I deem it unnecessary to speak. Let those who knew him in life remember that from their midst has departed one of the brightest examples of human patience and forbearance.

LIFE INSURANCE.

Ætna Life Insurance Company.

THE ÆTNA LIFE PRESENTS THE MOST signal example of American progress and accumulative energy. Every branch and department of the institution appears to be replete with the most active vitality and growth, and the rapidity of its advancement is so great that it promises to eclipse all its competitors and to become, if it is not already, the first Life Insurance Company of America.

How nearly these presages are already accomplished and how certain they are of complete and speedy fulfilment, may be gathered from the following facts. In 1861 it issued 589 policies, the premiums amounting to but $79,353.67. Since that period its growth has been something altogether unprecedented in the history of Life Insurance, its business having been annually doubled, tripled, and, on one occasion, almost quadrupled, till it has culminated in the yearly issue of over fourteen thousand policies, insuring over forty million dollars, at the same time that it was the recipient of the annual revenue of over Three and a Half Millions of Dollars.

It accordingly appears that the Ætna Life insured last year, with one exception, the largest number of persons of any Company in the United States, and even as to amount insured it is surpassed by only two Companies, and it is probable that it would not have been excelled by them in this respect, if it were not deemed incompatible with its permanent interests to grant a single policy for a sum exceeding ten thousand dollars; for, although so remarkably progressive, the Ætna's course has always been equally prudent, safe and conservative. But certainly in its increase of business in 1866 over that of 1865, including the issue of policies, amount insured, and total income, when its position and that of other Companies at the commencement of last year are duly considered, it must be regarded, beyond comparison, as the most successful of all. The present year witnesses no abatement of this youthful vigor and growth. On the contrary, we learn that the Company's increase of business in 1867 is nearly double that of the corresponding months of 1866. The realization of the avowed purpose of the management of the Ætna Life to make their Company the first, largest and best in the Union, appears therefore to have become a part of the "manifest destiny of the nation."

It must be admitted that there is something truly inspiring in the contemplation of the noble achievements of this Company; for although the material progress it has made is measurable by the actuary, the good it has done and the good it is yet destined to accomplish, transcend the calculation of all but Omniscience. The battle's victory, the triumph of material art and science are less glorious than the conquests of genuine philanthropy, of which Life Insurance is perhaps the most perfect emanation. In all countries and in all times the widow and orphan have been regarded as special objects of solicitude and bounty by the good and great, and even in the dark ages, the dauntless and true knight added a crown unto lustre to his fame by affording them relief and protection. Yet never until now—never until the complete establishment of Life Insurance, have the widow, orphan, and such dependants been justly, sufficiently, liberally and honorably provided for, and a Company like the Ætna Life, that takes the lead in this most beneficent work, is therefore deserving of all honor, praise and encouragement.

There is yet one feature peculiar to the Ætna Life entitled to especial commendation and that is its economy. In this regard, notwithstanding its activity, youth, growth, and amount of new business, it presents a remarkable exception, and the skill and care of its President, E. A. Bulkeley, Esq., and its zealous and able Secretary, T. O Enders, Esq., are manifested in the success which has attended their efforts to unite in their management the qualities of extraordinary efficiency and strict economy. The ratio of the Ætna's expenses to premium and total income is lower than that of the Mutual Life, its Titanic rival, and, under the latter heading, less than that of the Connecticut Mutual, notwithstanding the advantages possessed by these companies in their great accumulation of many years' business; but, although the ratio of the Ætna's disbursements is now considerably below the general average, it might have been reduced below that of any but for its generous, and in many instances, most laudable practice of paying claims before maturity. It keeps no orphan or widow waiting for her insurance money, even when not yet legally payable. It consults the spirit and design of the institution rather than the policy of preparing materials for an attractive exhibit. This genial benevolence and liberal dealing render the company a great favorite with the public.

Similar commendation might be justly extended to its other popular features and reforms, including its non-forfeiture policies, its helpful credit given during the continuance of policy, its equitable division of all the profits among the insured, except the six per cent. on the stock capital, and its excellent and productive dividend system. The last feature has afforded great satisfaction to its members, for its dividend which "is paid two years from date of policy and annually thereafter on the amount of premium," has this year, and for several years past, amounted to 50 per cent., and is paid promptly in the same year it is declared in cash on cash policies, or applied to the credit of those who have received credit.—We should, however, exceed the space to which we are restricted, if we were to enumerate the special advantages enjoyed by the members of the Ætna Life, who now number over thirty thousand, and who seem to fully appreciate their privileges, for they are the company's voluntary and in many instances most efficient agents, and assist in spreading its benefits with an earnestness and cordiality which speak well for their benevolence and volumes for the institution itself.

The Ætna Life is one of our soundest and safest Life corporations. It has over five million dollars securely invested, and a million dollars surplus above all liabilities, including the full value of all its existing policies. From every point of view this great Company displays features of special merit and unusual excellence; and if the prediction that its issue of policies during this year will amount to twenty-two thousand and its receipts to seven million dollars, should be fulfilled, it will get no more than its due—no more than the best friends of Life Insurance and of humanity (for they are identical) sincerely trust it will obtain and employ, as hitherto, to the advancement and elevation of society and eventually to the grateful relief and honorable maintenance of the widows and orphans of the provident and true hearted.

GRAND CHARITABLE

PRESENTATION CONCERT.

—IN AID OF THE—

SOUTHERN ORPHAN ASSOCIATION.

(Incorporated by the Legislature of Virginia, January 30, 1867.)

TO BE GIVEN AT THE

MARYLAND INSTITUTE,

BALTIMORE,

JUNE 17th. 1867.

THE PROFITS OF THIS CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION, TO THE SUBJOINED ADDRESS FROM THE OFFICERS OF WHICH, WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC.

The officers of the Southern Orphans' Association, for the maintenance and education of the destitute orphans of deceased Southern soldiers and sailors, earnestly solicit the sympathy and co-operation in our

GRAND PRESENTATION CONCERT

OF ALL WHO DESIRE TO SEE THE

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

Enabled to receive and care for all the needy ones who now seek shelter and protection.

It is the design of this Association to erect a for the Orphans of the South, both male and female, on an extensive scale, in the city of Richmond, Va. As an inducement to have the building located there, the Common Council of that city have guaranteed a sufficient lot of land, in an elevated and healthful location, and will increase the quantity of land if needed.

It is with a confident hope in a favorable response to this appeal to a public which has never yet failed to sustain a charitable institution, that we have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co., No. 13 Holliday street, Baltimore, to organize a Grand Musical Presentation Concert for its benefit, and earnestly solicit the kindly aid and patronage of the public to ensure its success.

It may seem unnecessary to add a single word to the above address, but calls upon the Institution have been so numerous and pressing, and the struggle through which it is now passing to widen the circle of its charities, is of such an arduous nature that the management cannot be strongly urge upon the everywhere an active participation in this additional attempt to alleviate the sad condition of great numbers of helpless children, rendered thus by the terrible war through which we have passed. And, assuredly, whatever may have been the relative political views of ladies and gentlemen heretofore, all must agree that the children referred to could not, by any possibility, have had any agency in bringing about their present and are suitable objects for the charity of all persons of whatever shade of political opinion. The

DEPLORABLE AND DESTITUTE CONDITION

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

which they now more particularly seek to establish and endow, will be of incalculable benefit by providing not only food and raiment for these helpless ones, but likewise solid and thorough education, thus qualifying them for

FUTURE USEFULNESS

TO SOCIETY AT LARGE.

In order that this appeal may be effectual in enlisting the active interest and co-operation of all classes of persons everywhere, we have concluded to issue for the GRAND

PRESENTATION MUSICAL CONCERT

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1867.

THE PRESIDENT IN RALEIGH!

THE OBSERVANCES OF YESTERDAY!

We have elsewhere noticed the reception held by the President in the Commons Hall on yesterday morning.

At 11 o'clock, the President, accompanied by the Secretary of State, the Postmaster General, and other gentlemen of the President's suite, Gov. Worth, Gen. Sickles, Gov. Swain, the orator of the day, and other eminent gentlemen, military and civilian, and the Mayor and City Commissioners, proceeded, in carriages, from the Yarborough House, with a small military escort, to the City Cemetery.

All the stores and public buildings in the City were closed in honor of the occasion.

An immense concourse of persons was assembled at the Cemetery, embracing all sexes, colors and ages, long prior to the arrival of the distinguished party.

We have heretofore described the monument, which is of native sand-stone, and in its simplicity and unpretentiousness a fit memorial of the humble man whose worth it is designed to commemorate.

Immediately facing the monument was erected a neat stand. Upon it were seated the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Postmaster General, the Governor of the State, Gov. Swain, Gov. Graham, the Mayor of the City, Gens Sickles, Miles, Avery, Barnes and Green, Col. Bomford, and others.

After prayer by the Rev. R. S. Mason, D. D., of the Episcopal Church, the capital of the monument was placed in position, the crowd rising and uncovering while the ceremony was being performed.

The Hon. D. L. Swain then delivered the address which had been appointed for the occasion; and we may safely say, without the fear of any exaggeration, that we can conceive of nothing that could have been more interesting in itself, or more entirely appropriate to the occasion. As a historical document,—a graphic and highly entertaining resume of the early days of the County and City, and of the characters of its representative men of the olden time, it was alike apposite and admirable. His tribute to the humble worth of the subject of his sketch was touching and genial, and his allusions to the illustrious son happy and striking. We have rarely seen an audience so much gratified, and the Governor, on concluding, received the hearty congratulations of nearly all the distinguished gentlemen who were present.

We have neither the space or opportunity, to-day, to say more of this most excellent production. We shall have the pleasure of presenting it to our readers to-morrow, and shall be glad of an opportunity of putting on record so valuable a contribution to our historical literature.

After the delivery of the address, the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Mason, and the large assemblage dispersed,—deeply impressed with the observances of the occasion.

THE RECEPTION AT THE COMMONS HALL.

Yesterday morning, between the hours of 9 and 11 o'clock, the President gave a reception to the citizens in the Commons Hall. During that time immense crowds of persons, both white and black, were passing the position occupied by the President, Messrs. Seward and Randall, Gen. Sickles and Gov. Worth, to all of whom the President extended his hand and introduced them to the gentlemen near him. It is seldom that more interest has been evinced on a similar occasion.

THE PRESIDENT and suite leave this morning for the University. We are pleased to learn that not only he, but all the gentlemen of his party, have expressed themselves greatly gratified at the manner in which they have been received.

SECRETARY SEWARD AND SECRETARY BEST.

Mr. Seward is notorious for his jokes and his good hits, while our friend, Mr. Secretary Best, is equally notorious for standing about as high in his boots as almost any man in the State. It so happened at one of the depots on the Weldon Road, on Monday, while the Presidential party was on their way to this place, that Mr. Seward, when called on to speak, was near Mr. Best, our Secretary of State of this State. As he arose to speak, Mr. Best stood towering above him. Mr. Seward said that he could but feel embarrassed in attempting to address the people. He was Secretary of State of the United States, but in the overpowering [looking quizzically up at Mr. Best] presence of the Secretary of State of North Carolina, he experienced difficulty! This, of course, brought down the house.

DEATH OF GEN. W. A. BLOUNT, OF BEAUFORT COUNTY.

The friends of this venerable gentleman will not be surprised to hear of his death. He died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. L. O'B. Branch, in this City, on yesterday (Tuesday) morning. Mr. B. had been in bad health for years, but has been rapidly declining for several months. His feeble but once vigorous constitution withstood many a shock, till at last the very wheels of life stood still, and he ceased to live. Gen. B. bore an active part in the war of 1812, and devoted most of his life afterwards to the quiet vocation of farming. We are not advised of the facts of his public life. He was a gentleman of the old school, kind, hospitable, fond of his circle of friends, and few possessed in a higher degree than he the information and ability to render colloquial intercourse entertaining and agreeable. He leaves a large circle of friends to lament his death.

DEATH OF HON. R. S. DONNELL.

We learned at too late a period, on Monday, of the death of Hon. R. S. Donnell, for a notice in yesterday's issue. He died at Newbern on Monday morning, after many years of suffering and pain, of gout. Mr. D. had filled with credit to himself a seat in Congress and several sessions of the Legislature of the State. He was highly esteemed as an excellent counsellor, a reliable friend, and a man of sterling integrity. Few politicians have been more pure in motive or more honest in the maintenance of principle, or more ingenuous towards those who differed with him. His death was not unexpected. "Peace to his ashes."

THE DINNER given by Maj. Blair, of the Yarborough House, in honor of the President, on yesterday, was a splendid affair and passed off with great eclat. We shall notice this and other matters more at length hereafter.

SEVERAL matters which claim our editorial notice are necessarily deferred. The political events of the past few days are of profound significance.

WATER.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—A premium might safely be offered, for a town of equal size with ours, that is as poorly supplied with water. The writer of this lives near a town pump that has been out of order, probably, ten months out of the last twelve. I have not known it to give water many weeks at a time, until lately. Of late high hopes were excited in the neighborhood, by the appearance of a force of pump men. They took out the old stock, put in a new one, painted it blue, and left. The old water, that has been there probably six or twelve months, was left in the well, unfit for almost any earthly purpose. And it is only by catching rain water, and sending long distances for fresh water, that we keep moist at all.

It seems that there are twenty-four street pumps in Raleigh, to a population of near six thousand people,—that is one pump for each two hundred and fifty, excepting such as have pumps or wells of their own.

The earth under us is well supplied with water. The depth is by no means excessive. And it is said that the subterranean deposits under us are interspersed with Feldspar, a mineral that imparts a peculiarly agreeable flavor to water. In the granite, water is remarkably cool. Better water cannot be had, nor a greater abundance of it.

It is intolerable to live so near such water, and not be able to get what you want of it. What is the matter? Our town might burn to ashes for want of water. Do the Insurance Companies want the place to burn up? Does the City Council care nothing for the place or the people? Or do the tax-payers dislike to spend their money for wells and pumps? Money cannot be better spent.—Even the old Romans knew the virtue of water; and they went so far as to spend money to erect public baths. But we enlightened North Carolinians have lost this appreciation to a mournful degree.

What is a temperance man to do? Liquor, they say, hurts, even when pure; but the liquor of the present day is poisonous.—Milk is out of the question, at eighty cents per gallon, about double the New York price. Coffee is too hot for summer. Water is better than all—cheaper, purer, more wholesome, better every way. Come, ye "City fathers," if you have no use for water, others have. Give us more pumps, or, at all events, fix the pumps we have, and above all, keep them fixed.

While on the subject, let us call up an old piece of Raleigh history. Many years ago, this city was supplied with water, by a "water-works." The head stream was near the old Hunter place, beyond the site of the present Insane Asylum. It was conveyed through wooden pipes, under the ground, and conducted into cisterns, located in different parts of the City. One of these cisters was located near the old Commons corner, now occupied by the new Bank building, opposite Williams & Haywood's. These cisterns were supplied with little force-pumps. But all this was when Andrew Johnson was a baby.

Columbia is supplied with water from an elevated basin, which gets its supply from a neighboring spring, and is forced up by a steam engine,—or this was the case years ago. Richmond is supplied from the James river, the water being forced to the reservoir by machinery.

Chicago gets its supply from the Lake.—An extensive pipe extends out into the water, and as millions of little fish got into the pipes, it was found necessary to bend this pipe upwards, so as to get the mouth near the surface, where these little creatures seldom go. So they avoid the annoyance. But even without the fish, the water is "none the best."

But artificial water-works reach their climax in New York. A pipe extends from Croton river to the city, some thirty miles. It is said that the Aqueduct is so large that two men rowed the whole length of it in a canoe. A cool ride for July. Still, in that city of wonders, those two men could make a fortune, by exhibiting themselves as the veritable men that went through the Croton Aqueduct.

But this is a digression. Let us have more water. Yours truly,

FARRENHEIT.

REMOVAL OF THE MUNICIPAL OFFICERS OF MOBILE.

FINAACIAL MATTERS—SHERIDAN'S ACTION—FORTHCOMING OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, &c.

WASHINGTON, June 4.

On account of the unexpectedly large receipts of a miscellaneous character, and from internal revenue towards the close of last month, and the small requisitions from the other Departments the debt statement for May will show not only a very large currency balance, but a considerable reduction of the debt.

Internal revenue to-day $1,025,000.

The monthly debt statement will be published to-morrow.

Gen. Sheridan's action of yesterday has produced profound sensation in political circles here. It is confidently expected that the President will, on his return from Raleigh, take the reins. It is stated that Durant has declined the Governorship of Louisiana.

Attorney General Stanbery is in receipt of many letters with questions regarding particular points in his opinion. The answers to which he cannot lawfully give, but there are assurances that the supplemental opinion based upon abstracts from the State laws will be prepared and promulgated in ample time to meet the issues.

Advices from Col. Parker, a member of Gen. Grant's staff who went west to investigate the Fort Kearny Massacre, corroborate the report of Indian hostilities. It is stated unofficially that Gen. Sherman will take the field.

Speculations differ as to the probable effect on the European monarchs of the massacre of Maximilian. Some think it will deter them, effectually and forever, from further interference in America, or from desiring territory here. Others anticipate a fierce animosity against republics, that will seek opportunities for indulgence.

The anxiety in Europe is represented as intense as to Maximilian's fate.

DIED,

On Tuesday morning, at the residence of Mrs L. O'B. Branch, Genl. Wm. A. Blount, in the 75th. year of his age. The friends of the family are respectfully requested to attend the Funeral from Christ Church, Thursday morning the 7th., at eleven o'clock.

GREENBRIER WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS,
WILL BE OPENED 1ST. OF JUNE, 1867.

The popular and far-famed WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in Greenbrier county, West Virginia, will be open the ensuing season for the accommodation of a large number of visitors, and will be kept in the best style by the Lessees, GEORGE L. PEYTON & CO., assisted by WILLIAM H. PEYTON, brother of the principal, both of whom are experienced hotel-keepers.

Near the White Sulphur is an excellent Chalybeate Spring.

Rosenberger's celebrated BRASS AND STRING BAND of Baltimore has been engaged for the season.

The rights of parties owning Cottages at these Springs will be respected upon their giving timely notice to the lessees of their purpose to occupy them.

The railroad will be completed to Covington by 1st. July; from thence to the Springs by stage, and a sufficiency of coaches will be provided to ensure comfort to passengers, as not over ten will go upon a single coach.

Cholera is unknown in the regions of the White Sulphur Springs.

A DESPOTIC ORDER.—It is difficult to restrain within the limits of rational discussion our indignation at the extraordinary order of General Schofield, which puts the whole civil system of Virginia—the courts, the police, the sheriffs, the constables, in a word all the officials of the State—under the supervision, not simply of General Schofield, but of his petty subalterns. A more despotic act we can hardly conceive of. If the Executive proposes to retain the respect of those who believe in "liberty regulated by law," he cannot much longer refrain from instructing his subordinates as to the limits of their authority. General Schofield may be a man of the purest intentions, and we certainly have no disposition to assail him; but this order is uncalled for and iniquitous, and embodies the very quintessence of despotism.—National Intelligencer.

SENATOR SUMNER.—Senator Sumner left for New England on Thursday night, expressing the opinion that his services would not be required here until December. I am able to authoritatively deny the statement that he has remained there merely for the purpose of assisting in making up a quorum of the Senate for the July session. The truth is, that his legitimate business has detained him here, and he has not for some time entertained any idea that the Judiciary Committee would be able to find evidence to sustain a bill of impeachment.—Dispatch to the New York Times.

General Brown, of the Freedmen's Bureau, for this State, has entered the political canvass. Under the convenient report that somebody is going to keep the negroes of the State from registering,—which nobody ever thought of doing,—he instructs all his subordinates to urge upon them both to register and to vote, and such Bureau officers as may omit a single freedman in his attentions to be dealt with for a dereliction.

We have not yet heard of similar intentions to the whites.—Richmond Enquirer.

The Toronto Globe says: "We understand that a small and unpretending tenement in the vicinity of the Falls, on the Canadian side of the river, has been rented for the occupation of Jefferson Davis and his family during the ensuing summer. The house is half way between Clifton and Queenstown."

Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychonotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.
OPEN JUNE 1.

This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THROAT, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA; CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS of KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season both for the LAWN and the BALL-ROOM.

A VERY SUPERIOR BAND OF MUSIC,

THE BILLIARD AND BOWLING SALOONS, both for ladies and gentlemen, will be found in more complete order than ever before.

From the very extensive preparations now making at all the leading Virginia Springs, a heavy travel is anticipated, and, we think, will be attracted. It shall be the aim of the undersigned to keep their establishment FULLY UP TO THE FOREMOST; and they hope to see a renewal of the social re-unions which in former years lent such a charm to these mountain retreats.

Passengers by the Virginia Central railroad get off the cars at GOSHEN Depot. Eight (8) miles of staging over a smooth road lands them at the Springs.

BOARD, $2.50 PER DAY; $60 PER MONTH.

LITTLE DAISY.

BY RICHARD P. HARRIS.

A sweet little face at the window,
Looking out on the street—
A impatient tap on the pane,
And stamp of the little feet.

The playthings are scattered around,
Daisy 's too tired to play;
She is wearily waiting for papa,
To come at the close of the day.

* * * * * * * * *

Gone is the face at the window!
Gone are the hands on the pane;
Hushed is the voice; we shall never Hear its sweet music again.

Gone is our little darling;
She was only loaned—not given;
Our little one, too pure for earth,
Was taken back to Heaven.

Under the falling leaves,
Under the heaped up sod,
Only the casket lies buried;
The jewel is with God.

RALEIGH, June 4.

The spontaneous combustion in Dickens' book is founded on scientific fact. It has occurred in numerous instances in persons habituated to the excessive use of spirits.—Turf, Field and Farm.

There is not sufficient warrant for this statement, and scientific men generally reject the theory of spontaneous combustion of the human body. Professor Pgine, in his Medical and Physiological Commentaries, published some third of a century ago, said of the then reported instances, "The few cases which we have been able to find amongst all sources, have been gathered from that loose authority, the common people, or the mere rumor of superstition. Old hags have been the usual subjects, and every instance which has come within our knowledge, is destitute of the elements of a good story." Dr. Charles A. Lee, in his edition of Guy's Principles of Forensic Medicine, published in 1845, says, "In our judgment, no well authenticated case of this nature is on record, for in every instance we find that a candle or some ignited body has been at hand, by which the fire might have been communicated to the body." And although such names as those of Orfela, Dupuytren, Devergie and Christison have been found among those of the supporters of the theory of spontaneous combustion of the human body, and notwithstanding some very extraordinary cases, such as that of the young seamstress of Hamburg, and that of the priest Bartholi, of Florence, are reported as having been described by themselves, the general tendency of scientific conviction is to reject that theory. At the same time it is not denied that the human body may, under certain conditions, acquire a degree of combustibility which is violently opposed to its normal characteristics.—N. O. Crescent.

REGISTERING THE MEN AND BROTHERS IN LOUISIANA.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, writing from Thibodeaux, La., 17th instant, sends the following:

"The work of reconstruction in this district rapidly progresses. The colored man standeth forth in his dignity as a freeman, a citizen, a voter. And so doeth the "white trash." The old sugar planters and cotton raisers hold off in disgust and in silence at this state of affairs. The Registrar holds daily sittings at the Courthouse, from 8 A. M. to P. M., and the assembly there is a a motley one—a kind of pepper-and-salt arrangement, many blacks, few whites. The work is being completed in an orderly and dignified manner, and without any attempt at interference. The colored and the white walk in, record their names, answer the usual questions, make their mark, take the oath, and depart with their certificate of citizenship.

The scenes which occur in the office are decidedly rich.

To-day I was at the Registrar's office, where I learned that over 1,100 names had been recorded. While I was there a squad of colored men were called in and the usual document read to them. One of the number was then called up to the desk:

"What is your name, sir?"

"Sicily Johnson."

"How do you spell your first name?"

"Don't know, massa."

"How old are you?"

"I 'specks I'se about forty years, massa."

"How do you know that?"

"Bekase de man on de step told me he 'specks I'se forty, and I 'specks so too."

(He was certainly over sixty.)

"Can you read or write?"

"No, massa."

"Where do you live?"

"Down her on the bin" (bayou).

The candidate for citizenship was directed to hold up his right hand, when the oath was administered, in response to which he constantly repeated, "Yes, massa," "yes, massa." The clerk then said:

"Can you repeat to me anything I have just said to you?"

"No, massa."

"Do you know what I did say to you?"

"No, massa."

The applicant for registration then made his mark, received his certificate and departed a "citizen."

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th. section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution therefor under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers, and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
